During this period, he was involved in the management of Project SMILE done in collaboration with the Government of Rajasthan and Rajasthan Board of Secondary Education (RBSE). The aim of the project was to provide e-learning material to students of classes I-XII in Rajasthan by collecting, curating and distributing content to students.

Aayush contributed to the project in a significant way by:

- Curating e-content and assessments daily for ~26L students across 63k schools in Rajasthan (under two parallel streams – SMILE and eKaksha); automated the content curation module by building an excel model (using Macros, VBA) optimizing the process by ~60% (in terms of time saved)
- Overlooking the review mechanism of the e-content and managing relationships with a team of 30+ teachers
- Assisting in expanding the reach to digitally disconnected students via new initiatives such as
 - a. '1 Shikshak, 5 Vidyarthi' (connect via Teacher Calls); reaching 9L+ students via ~1L teachers
 - b. Workbooks Distribution (reaching 12 million students)
- Assessing the impact by timely data analysis to ensure data-driven decision making by developing district/block rankings and teacher recognition mechanisms
- Facilitating collaboration with ConveGenius to deliver AI-WhatsApp based assessments with a reach of 2,50,000 students from the initial 90,000 i.e. 156% increase within a span of 2 months.
- Assisting in the launch and implementation of 'Chalo Milo Khudse' - an initiative to assess the well-being of the students during the lockdown via worksheets and audio clips

During his internship, we found Aayush to be extremely sincere and dedicated. His work was structured and reliable, and he proved to be an asset to the team.
